Mum's narrow escape as ceiling collapses

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON COUNCIL has launched an investigation after part of a bedroom ceiling collapsed, narrowly missing a woman.

Care worker Sarah Jephson, of Denham Close, Marsh Farm, was leaving for work on April 7 when the falling ceiling in her council home just missed her.

Two weeks earlier, on March 25, water had began leaking in their loft following refurbishment work by council workers.

Mrs Jephson, and her husband Ian, 51, expressed their concern after noticing a bulge had appeared in the ceiling of their 12-year-old daughter's bedroom.

But workmen assured the couple that it would 'dry out', with a surveyor visiting the property to take photos and telling them it was safe.

Mrs Jephson said: "When they first came the guy doing the works said he made a mistake with the pipes and that the loft was leaking.

"I was told it was fine and that the water would dry eventually – but it didn't. Two days later I noticed a bulge in my daughter's ceiling which then moved to my room.

"I asked the workmen about it but they said it would be fine. I don't understand how they could say that because everyday it kept getting bigger.

"One of the workmen even said they tell people it will be okay to stop them worrying.

"On the morning it collapsed I was getting ready to leave for work when I realised I had forgotten something.

"I went to my room to get it and just as I was leaving the whole thing came down. The debris brushed my shoulder so imagine if it had happened a few moments before."

The upstairs rooms of the couple's house have been without electricity since Monday March 25 and they have had to send their daughter Adelaide to a relative while repairs have been carried out.

Repairs to the ceiling began on Tuesday and the council expects them to be finished sometime during this week.

A spokeswoman said: "A ceiling collapse is a very unpleasant experience and we sympathise with Mr and Mrs Jephson, and have already apologised to them."

She added: "A thorough investigation into the situation and the lead-up to it is already under way."

You can visit our website to see more pictures of the damaged ceiling.

UNIMPRESSED: Mrs Jephson said she wants an explanation from the council as to why their workmen kept assuring her the ceiling was fine before it eventually collapsed, narrowly missing her

Labour agent rejects claims over election campaign

SUGGESTIONS by the newest Liberal Democrat councillor that the Labour Party ran an 'unpleasant' campaign in the recent Wigmore by-election have been refuted by one of Labour's election agents.

On Wednesday night Lib Dem candidate Alan Skepelhorn was elected with 982 votes.

After his victory Councillor Skepelhorn said: "I am pleased that we've held the seat, especially after we put an awful lot of effort in and despite a very negative and unpleasant Labour campaign that failed to achieve anything other than a very poor second place for them."

But Labour agent Francis Steer said: "Labour achieved the same vote at 24 per cent in the by-election as we did at the last local elections. Obviously it's disappointing not to make progress and it's a poor result for Labour."

"I reject the claim that we ran an 'unpleasant' campaign. We did point out to the electorate that the sitting Wigmore Lib Dem councillor (Cllr Peter Chapman) had been exposed by Luton On Sunday as attending fewer than 59 per cent of the meetings he should have been at. That is not unpleasant in my book."

"I wish the new Wigmore Lib Dem councillor well and hope he attends all the meetings that he should be at."

Appeal for information in murder investigation

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

BEDFORDSHIRE Police are continuing investigations into the murder of Luton man Paul Foster.

The 46-year-old was shot and killed on Tuesday, April 9, after an incident outside a house in Brunel Road, in Lewsey Farm, just before midnight.

Officers were called to the Luton and Dunstable Hospital in the early hours of Wednesday morning, after Paul had been taken to hospital for treatment to a gunshot wound. He died shortly after arrival.

On Thursday, a post mortem revealed that Paul, who was married with children, had died from a gunshot wound to his chest.

Two men have since been arrested and bailed in connection with the murder.

The first man, aged 21 and from Luton, was arrested on suspicion of murder on Thursday, from an address in the town, while the second man, aged 24 and also from Luton, handed himself in to police on Thursday afternoon.

Both were questioned by detectives from the Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire Major Crime Unit and released on police bail pending further investigation.

Detective Supt Jeff Hill, Head of MURDER: Paul Foster died after being shot outside a house in Brunel Road

the Major Crime Unit, said: "I would remind members of the public that although two men have been arrested in connection with this investigation there have been no charges at this time. This is still an ongoing investigation.

"Remember we all need to work together to put a stop to this type of violence which has left Paul's wife, children and family devastated. We know there are people in the community who have information who at this time have not come forward."

If you have information relating to this murder or if you saw the shooting itself speak with officers from the MCU, in complete confidence on 01707 355959.

Inquiries into death of sex assault victim, 82

THE sentencing of a man who admitted sexually assaulting an 82-year-old woman has been adjourned following the death of the victim.

Police are now investigating whether Darren Emmerson, who had pleaded guilty to sexual assault at Luton Magistrates Court, could face further charges.

Emmerson, 40, of Parkside Drive, Houghton Regis, had targeted the property of his elderly victim in the early hours of Monday, March 18, after noticing that a light in her home was on.

He knocked on the door, and thinking it was a concerned neighbour, the woman answered.

Emmerson then forced himself into the property and subjected her to a sexual assault which lasted around 45 minutes. He then left the property.

Emmerson was due to be sentenced on Friday at Luton Crown Court, but the case has been adjourned for eight weeks, while further investigations take place.

Due to the close proximity between the date of the assault and date of the victims' death, further pathology and histology examinations are currently underway.

Judge Farrell QC said: "Due to the very serious nature of the offences it is clear that you are looking at custody in one form or another. The only question is what type and for how long."

Judge Farrell also ordered a psychiatric report to be carried out.

Emmerson is due back in Luton Crown Court for sentencing on Friday, June 7.

He has been remanded in custody until then.

MORE BUS PROTESTS AHEAD

PARENTS of children at Cardinal Newman are gearing up for another week of protests over proposed cuts to faith school buses.

Spokeswoman Antoinette Kotula said: "We will be demonstrating outside the town hall on Tuesday (April 16) before the full council meeting.

"One of our members has been allowed to speak at the meeting for five minutes to put our issue across.

"There is also a public meeting at the school at 7pm on Wednesday with council leader Hazel Simmons, who only agreed to speak with us after our demonstration last month."

COLLEGE SUBMIT ROOM PLANS

PLANS have been submitted to build two new classrooms at Luton Sixth Form College.

The rooms would be added into the roof void above the existing drama studio, which is to the right of the main reception at the front of the building.

The proposed extension will help the college cater for increasing student numbers - the last two academic years has seen the number of youngsters enrolling rise by eight and six per cent respectively.

Tony Whitehead, head of estates management at the college, said: "It's an exciting project for the college and it's good to be providing more facilities for our students.

"The classrooms will fit within the boundaries of the building as it is at the moment."

ROADS SHUT FOR BUSWAY WORKS

HATTERS Way in Luton will be closed between its junctions with Dunstable Road and Chaul End Lane over the next four weekends for works connected with the Luton and Dunstable Busway.

Subject to weather conditions the closures will take effect on April 13-14, 20-21 and 27-28 plus May 4-5 from 5am on each Saturday, and will allow for work to lay the busway's concrete beams and pads.

The road will be reopened as soon as possible each weekend, and not later than 10pm on each Sunday. Motorists are advised to follow the signed diversion route via Dunstable Road and Chaul End Lane and to allow extra time for their journeys.

Girl, 7, launches website to help autism sufferers

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD girl has set up a website to help raise awareness about autism after her brother was diagnosed with the condition.

Having been inspired by the Pride of Britain awards on television, young Jessica Frost, of Fisher Close in Barton-le-Clay, was adamant she wanted to make life better for her little brother Max, aged five.

With a little help she set up a website called 'Jessica's Acorn', which she now uses to share news about fundraising events that have been organised, and information about autism.

Her uncle, Mike Notschild said: "Jessica has always said from a very early age that she would like to start a charity to help Max, but after she saw the awards ceremony on TV there was no stopping her.

"It was then we decided we had to give it a go and make it come true for her.

"The idea for the name of the fund came from Jessica herself.

"She was aware that lots of people give money to charity already, but thought that if people were willing to donate their spare change it would eventually grow into a large amount – like an acorn into an oak tree.

"It is her dream that one day she will raise enough to open a centre for families like that have autism.

"We know that is a big dream, but if we keep collecting our pennies, one day we will be able to afford our oak tree.

"As well as creating the website, we have had 500 wristbands produced that we are selling for £1 each, which will promote the fund and the cause."

HELP: Jessica shows her website

Each year, half of all money raised will be put into a fund for the centre, while the other half will be given to existing organisations and charities to help support them.

Despite launching the website only last month, there has already been fantastic support for Jessica's Acorn.

Following a presentation by Jessica, Ramsey Manor Lower in Barton-le-Clay, is allowing a small collection box to be placed in each classroom, for children to bring in their one and two pence pieces.

A number of events have been organised to have raise additional cash for the fund.

These include a coffee morning, which will take place at Ramsey Manor Lower School between 10.45 and 11.45am on Monday, May 13.

For more information about fundraising events or to donate money, visit www.jessicasacorn.org.

Police investigate sports car thefts

A DRIVER had a £24,000 sports car stolen in Luton on the same night a similar vehicle was taken in Leighton Buzzard.

Jamie Robertson, 22, an army physical instructor based in Germany, had his white Vauxhall Astra VXR Nurburgring special edition car, taken whilst on a visit to his girlfriend who lives on Sycamore Avenue.

The car was parked outside the property, but he awoke on Wednesday morning to find it missing.

Bedfordshire Police say in addition to investigating the theft of Mr Robertson's car they have also been contacted by a woman who had a similar vehicle stolen in Leighton Buzzard.

Mr Robertson said: "My girlfriend's mum was the first to notice that the car had gone. It's only seven weeks old and it costs around £24,100.

"I'm shocked. I still have both sets of keys for the car and we never heard any noise overnight."

A police spokeswoman said: "We have had a report from Mr Robertson about his car and we also had a call on Wednesday morning about the theft of a similar vehicle in Leighton Buzzard.

"We don't know at the moment if the two incidents are related but it is well known that high performance vehicles can be subject to organised crime thefts."

New concern over internet stalkers

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

INTERNET tools that allow users to reveal their exact whereabouts could help cyberstalkers track potential victims, an expert has warned.

Professor Carsten Maple, pictured, from the University of Bedfordshire, said the emergence of tools which publish an individual's location on popular social media sites is creating an overlap between people's online and offline lives.

He was speaking in the run up to the nationwide National Stalking Awareness Day on Thursday

Professor Maple is a co-director of the national centre for cyberstalking research which is based at the university.

It houses analysts and researchers from different fields such as law, psychology and technology, who investigate and advise on issues surrounding cyberstalking.

He said: "Recently we have been looking at geo-location and how that ties together someone's online and physical presence.

"There is much more crossover between a person's online persona and what they do in the physical world when they are offline. So that can be a tool used to locate someone.

"We've also noticed that there's been a change in the victims and perpetrators involved in stalking incidents. There's been a shift from the traditional scenario of males stalking females to situations now where males stalk males and females stalk females."

Professor Maple also said this year's theme for the stalking awareness day was publicising the fact that online users can approach the police if they are experiencing any issues.

He said cases of people being killed as a result of harassment which began online highlighted the need for more awareness as some of these victims could have approached the authorities for help.

He added: "Cyberstalking is a criminal offence and if there are people out there living in fear of this they can come to organisations such as the stalking helpline, the police or ourselves and we can help."

Whoops! Signs get it wrong

AN EAGLE-EYED driver has spotted a number of spelling mistakes on signs at the re-opened Library car park in Luton.

Two signs at the entrance of the facility in Library Road, state: 'Please note the traiff's apply 24 hours'. It should read 'tariffs'.

The car park was re-opened in March, more than four years after being shut down in December 2008.

Demolition work was undertaken at the site, owned by The Mall, at the end of last year. It recently re-opened as a ground floor car park with 106 spaces.

The driver who noticed the error said: "It is a shame that a nice new, and much-needed, facility, has been spoilt with silly errors on the sign. I hope that they will be replaced, and read before they are put up!"

A Mall spokesman said: "We are grateful both to the driver and the Luton on Sunday for bringing these errors to our attention. "The contractors have been notified and the signs will be corrected as soon as possible."

'No-show' patients cost hospital £2m

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

AROUND one in ten patients at the Luton and Dunstable Hospital have failed to attend their scheduled appointments in the last year – at a cost of £2m.

These figures equate to more than 28,000 missed appointments between 2012-13 alone.

In an attempt to reduce these numbers the L&D will introduce a new telephone reminder system this summer, which is predicted to reduce the 'Did Not Arrive' (DNA) rate significantly.

It is also hoped that the confirmation system will improve the time a patient has to wait before receiving an appointment, and ensure clinics run smoothly.

A spokesman for the Luton and Dunstable Hospital said: "Staff understand that some patients have valid reasons for not being able to inform the Trust that they can't make their appointment.

"They may be too ill to telephone or they may call too late in for the hospital to offer the appointment to another patient.

"But every time someone misses a hospital appointment they still need to be seen another day, and another patient could have been seen instead.

"At the L&D we already send a text message to many patients to remind them of their appointment and we are committed to improving our services."

OOPS: The vehicle was stuck under the bridge in Hitchin Road

Lorry gets stuck under railway bridge

THIS lorry driver underestimated the size of his trailer when he attempted to go under a railway bridge in Luton.

Bedfordshire Police were called to Hitchin Road at 4.30pm to find the vehicle stuck under the 13ft arch.

A spokesman for Network Rail, who own the bridge, said: "We examined the scene as a precautionary measure but it was all fine."

Student referee eyes place in the big time

BY CARL MUNGAZI
 carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COLLEGE student who officiated at an international football tournament hopes the skills he learnt will help him become a professional referee.

Will Finnie, 18, from Stopsley, was a match official at the Dallas Cup held in Dallas, Texas from March 24-31.

The Luton Sixth Form College student said the experience taught him a lot of things he hopes to use in his weekly games in the Spartans South Midlands league.

He first got into refereeing in 2010 and has worked his way up to being a level four official.

Speaking about his experience in the States, Will said: "The language barrier with some of the teams meant the main communication tools for us were our whistles and hand signals.

"The phrases 'yes', 'no', 'please' and 'thank you' are were all the phrases you needed.

"In England I talk more with the players but it's harder when you can't speak the language. I officiated in the under-14 final but both teams spoke Spanish and no English so I spent the night before the game learning some Spanish phrases.

"It was a good experience. Now I want to put what I have learnt to practice in my goal of becoming a professional referee."

Schools given chance of free football tickets

MORE than 1,000 tickets for Luton Town Football club's last home game are being offered to primary school children as part of a reward scheme.

The club has partnered with local social enterprise Unleashing Potential to recognise the achievements of the most improved pupils in local schools.

The tickets are being made available for participating schools and teachers are encouraged to put forward pupils who have demonstrated the biggest improvements in literacy.

Each school is entitled to ten pairs of tickets, with an adult – a parent or a guardian – required to accompany the child to the game.

To take up the offer schools must send an email to ticketoffice@lutontown.co.uk, using the code LBCSCH.

Our green space should not be built on

SIR – I am writing to ask Luton Borough Council if they ever listen to the people who trusted them enough to vote for them. I think not.

As the Labour Party has control of the council, they appear to think they can do anything they want. Well, to be honest, they can, as they are in control of every committee.

This has been proved time and time again and yet they still want us to think that they listen to us, and say that we should trust them.

They obviously listened when we said we didn't want a guided busway, and again when they decided to go for city status. The cost of these projects is enormous, and it is us who pays.

They give away our green spaces to housing associations for very few social houses and yet they sell brown field sites saying they need money. Maybe if it hadn't cost so much for the busway, they would allow us to keep the limited number of green spaces we have.

We are in a deprived area for green space as it is, yet they give the few remaining spaces away. They could have used brown field sites to build on or give to housing associations, yet they don't as it is cheaper to build on green space.

But where are we supposed to go when there is no green space left? They say we have parks, but how many of us live near a designated park? Where can the children run, kick a ball or have a picnic?

I believe councils have to show they have used all brown field sites before they can build on open green space, yet Luton Council are selling a brown field site and have others earmarked for development, so why are they taking green space like the field behind Butely Road?

All they will gain is 13 social houses. Ten others are to be shared ownership and the remaining 33 will be sold at full price by Catalyst homes, quite a profit I would think if each house sells for over £100,000. Luton could have given the Westlea's site, on Leagrave Road, to Catalyst Homes to build on, yet they are selling this large piece of land to a developer.

'Vote for us' the Labour Party will say when the elections come, yet how can we trust a council who refuse to listen to the people who voted for them last time?

Maybe they think we will forget how much of our money they have wasted or how they never ask us before spending huge sums of money on projects we don't want. Maybe they think we won't notice that there is hardly any green space left in Luton. I know I will never trust them again and will be using my vote wisely.

Newman won't close

SIR – Please allow me to respond to Mrs O'Donnell's letter in which she attempts to defend the continued subsidy for Cardinal Newman school buses by holding up the spectre of its possible closure.

I would like to put the lady's mind at rest because such arguments are either disingenuous or else extremely naive.

Closure is emphatically not an issue. Any mention of it is nothing more than blackmail and scaremongering. Neither is there the slightest likelihood of Cardinal Newman's ceasing to be a 'faith school'.

This propaganda is a thinly veiled way of playing the religion card. The truth is we are talking about an extremely well funded school which is backed by one of the most wealthy organisations in the world.

An organisation which cherishes and fiercely protects its place in society.

All across Europe, Christian churches are fighting a rear-guard action in the face of shrinking congregations and the Catholic Church recognises better than most the importance of the 'seed corn' that faith schools help to produce.

There is absolutely no way that Cardinal Newman will be allowed to sink or even to lose its 'faith school' label.

Only last week I read in LoS that work is soon to begin on a £1.3million redevelopment of Cardinal Newman.

This is not consistent with a school faced with the possibility of closure, however slight.

Fear not. Cardinal Newman School will be with us for the foreseeable future, well after Luton's council tax payers cease paying its bus fares.

Ron Turvey,
Stanmore Crescent, Luton

Change was required

SIR – Well the new benefit measures came in on April 1.

Whether you like them or not, don't you think something had to be done?

Everybody knows of someone in their street who is living on one benefit or another and has been for a number of years.

Some of these people have been receiving, according to the media, up to £50,000 or £60,000 a year.

This can't be right can it?

But what gets up my nose is that after introducing these new measures the government then gives it away to other countries who don't need it. And they don't think they are doing anything wrong.

The government keeps banging on about getting people back to work and off of benefits, but into what jobs?

There is no industry in Luton or the surrounding areas, and there won't be for the foreseeable future.

Let's direct this money into creating industry and try to get this country back on its feet.

AD Currant,
Lime Avenue, Luton

Rats aren't bad news

SIR – I read in your newspaper, that was abandoned in our shopping centre in Luton, that we are being blamed for littering the place, spreading disease, and spoiling areas with faeces.

In fact, we are some of the neatest, tidiest, and most hygienic animals, in existence.

We always get the blame for many problems caused mainly by human beings, who are litter bugs and leave surplus food lying about.

We clean it up by eating it. We usually only feed at night, so that we can keep an eye on our persecutors during the day.

What is truly amazing about Luton and the people of the town, is the litter they leave lying around for us to explore and maybe find a meal.

Most importantly, we must be the cleanest, most hygienic rats in the whole of Great Britain, because we are in and out of your River Lea all night long. There is nothing smelly about us.

The King Rat (George L. Donohoe),
George St, Luton

Clearing things up

SIR – I thought it worth responding to the article written by Steve Lowe on health and safety. I work at Imperial College London as a safety manager, and have been working in the profession for the past 12 years.

I hope this helps to put my comments below into context.

First of all ladders have not been banned and using them does not breach any health and safety law. Simply put it is a matter of assessment – in fact the HSE itself has a guidance note on safe use of ladders.

As for the conkers story this is one of the oldest chestnuts around. A well-meaning head teacher decided children should wear safety goggles to play conkers (not the HSE).

Subsequently some schools appear to have banned conkers on 'health & safety' grounds or made children wear goggles. Realistically the risk from playing conkers is incredibly low and just not worth bothering about. If kids deliberately hit each other over the head with conkers (or triangular flapjacks), that's a discipline issue.

The common theme here is that there is a confusion about health and safety law and application of the requirements in the workplace.

The future's not looking bright for young people

AS so often is the case, it could be years before we know how good, or bad, this Government is. I predict bad to be the most likely adjective, probably with an adverb in front.

And, of course, it is the young who will be hit hardest and longest, although I have reached the age where I am starting to worry about my pension and whether it is safe to keep what money I have in banks and building societies.

A new report by Unicef states that children and young people in this country face a pretty bleak future. Another report highlights that the effects of the benefits cuts will not be spread evenly but the people outside the South-East will be hit hardest. Nothing new there, then.

One of the bleakest elements of the Unicef report concerns education for young people. This country is bottom of the 29 advanced countries when it comes to offering further education.

And, with university tuition fees having recently trebled, this can only get worse.

Which is very sad news for today's youth but even sadder news for the country.

Every other developed - and developing - country recognises that education is vital in acquiring an intelligent and flexible workforce and that such a workforce is vital in securing work.

But not for the UK and not for this Government.

As a result we will not just slide to the bottom of the list, but to the bottom of an ever increasing list, as developing countries, in Latin America, Asia and East Asia overtake us. Not a legacy anyone is likely to be proud of, but my last prediction is that the Government, and its members, will not be to blame. As Machiavelli said of Government a long time ago: 'Take credit for the good news and let others take the blame for the bad news.' I bet David Cameron has read that one, in between watching X-Factor.

POLICE chiefs and some top judges have come up with their latest attempt on curbing the press. They want to keep the names of people arrested secret.

It cannot be a coincidence that this call has come following the arrests of a few celebs as part of the Jimmy Savile investigation.

Already some forces do not name people arrested but judges want this enshrined in law as part of the Leveson proposals.

Lord Leveson has supported the idea and is calling for the change.

As many keep saying - but a lot more are not listening - statutory restriction on the press is a slippery slope. The rich and powerful in this country are just that: rich and powerful.

It is hard enough as it is to investigate and report on these people. But some of them want there to be no investigating and reporting, unless of course it is for stories that flatter their ego. Of course for those who know where to look, the names are always on the web, which these judges seem unaware exists.

Years ago my former boss Frank Branston once quipped that our job is to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable. That job looks like getting harder and harder.

FINALLY, with regard to the passing of Mrs Thatcher, I think it best to stick to the old maxim, that my mum used to tell me - if you can't say anything nice don't say anything at all. So I am saying nothing.

Young stars scoop acting accolade

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A YOUTH theatre company has won a prestigious drama competition – just a year after it was formed.

The Next Generation Youth Theatre group (NGYT), which is made up of 24 young people aged between 14-17, bagged first place in the 69th Annual Welwyn Garden City Youth Drama festival, with a performance of RIP Ned, a show that they have devised.

Winning the accolade has meant that this company of young actors has now been received an invitation to open the Welwyn Garden City Drama Festival on Monday, June 3.

After hearing the results, Laura Hobson and David Lloyd co-founders and directors of NGYT, said: "We were in absolute shock when they announced we had won."

"The standard throughout the festival was really high."

"We are so proud of the company members."

"They're totally committed to the performance and delivered the message of the piece."

"NGYT is about giving young people a voice and a platform to express themselves and winning

STAGE STARS: The members of the Next Generation Youth Theatre group who won the Annual Welwyn Garden City Youth Drama festival

this confirms that we are doing the right things."

NGYT, which was formed in spring 2012, offers a range of dance and drama classes designed to build confidence and self esteem as well as giving students the tools for a career in the performing arts.

Having gone from strength-to-strength, the group has been performing at a variety of events across Luton including The Love Luton Festival as part of The Big Dance, The Relay for Life and

The Salvation Army Christmas Concert.

The students are now looking forward to playing at the St George's Day celebrations in Luton on Saturday, April 20.

The group will be putting on pop up performances throughout the day in St George's Square.

If you would like more information about Next Generation Youth Theatre or would like to book RIP Ned to perform at your school, visit ngyt.co.uk or call Laura Hobson on 01582 882071.

Archive celebrates Irish move to town

THE remarkable tales of people who travelled from Ireland to start a new life in Luton have been collated in a new online archive.

The project, called 'Catching the Boat' which was organised by the Luton Irish Forum, seeks to celebrate the impact the Irish community has had on the town over the years.

A team of volunteers, including students from Barnfield College, as well as members of the community, were recruited and trained to collect and catalogue oral and written histories of residents who wanted to share their stories.

The information that has been gained provides a fascinating insight into the working lives of immigrants in areas which were popular among the community, including car manufacturing, mechanics, construction, nursing and domestic services.

Many of the tales of those who have been interviewed are emotional, often telling of their trepidation about moving to a new town and indeed country.

However, just as many conclude by saying that the town has offered them a better life.

A large crowd welcomed the

A heritage project documenting the migration of families from Ireland to Luton has now been officially launched. 'Catching the Boat' is an online archive which contains the stories of people who made the move to the town. Our reporter, LAUREN ARCHALL, finds out more unveiling of the heritage project last week.

John Boyle, current Luton & District Irish Person of the Year cut the ribbon at the launch and spoke first hand of his experience in coming to England.

He said: "My story was similar to many families who moved to Luton in the 50s and 60s.

"It was difficult but the Irish community had an aptitude to learn very quickly and work extremely hard."

In addition to the online archive, existing recordings, images and artefacts have been collected to produce an exhibition which is held at Kathleen Connolly House on Hitchin, Road, Luton.

Noelette Hanley, chief officer at the Irish Forum, is still encouraging local people to get involved.

She said: "The tales that we are hearing are very moving and are a testament of true human spirit and endeavour.

"It is important that we record as many accounts as we can."

Anyone who would like further information or is interested in the project can contact Noelette Hanley on 01582 720 447, or visit the Catching the Boat archive at www.catchingtheboat.com.

Woman, 68, victim of 'vicious attack'

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THOUSANDS of pounds worth of jewellery was stolen by thieves who threatened an elderly homeowner with a tyre iron.

Three men forced their way into a property in Sugden Court, Princess Street, Dunstable on Tuesday, April 9, at around 8am, and started searching the home.

After finding the 68-year-old female resident in the bathroom, the trio dragged her into a bedroom and threatened her with a tyre iron.

They then took a quantity of jewellery that she was wearing, as well as other items from the property, before fleeing through the front door.

All three intruders are described as white males, in their early 20s and wearing dark clothing.

The first, who stole the jewellery that the victim was wearing, was around six feet tall.

Investigating officer, Detective Constable Denise Comb, said: "This was a vicious attack which has left the victim extremely shaken up and distressed.

"The offenders were prepared to use violence during this attack and it is imperative that we locate these individuals as quickly as possible.

"We would really like to hear from anyone who was in the area at the time or anyone else who may have information – however small or insignificant they think it is – that could help us.

If you have information relating to this incident, contact DC Comb, in confidence by calling 01582 394359 or the non-emergency number 101.

Airport coach service creates 20 new jobs

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than 20 new jobs will be created in Luton by coach company National Express.

This is as a result of a new dedicated direct transport service between Luton Airport, pictured, and London Victoria Coach Station.

A number of customer service and operational staff have already been recruited but National Express is still looking for drivers with PCV licences.

It is hoped that the new 'A1' airport service, which will be operational from May 1, will mean faster journey times, more frequent services, and more seats available at peak times for passengers getting to and from the airport.

An enhanced timetable, specially-engineered around flight times, will further benefit customers.

At peak times, coaches are timetabled to run every ten minutes, with 150 services travelling to and from the airport each day. This is equivalent to a third more seats than currently offered at peak times.

For more information visit www.nationalexpress.com or call 08717 818178.

Road safety scheme for drivers and cyclists

A NEW campaign is encouraging road users to be safe and look out for each other when travelling on roads in Luton.

'Let's look out for each other' is asking drivers to give cyclists ample space, while in return ensuring that those on bicycles make sure they can be seen and are riding in a safe manner.

Posters and roadside advertising have been distributed throughout the town.

Christine Davy, road safety manager at Luton Borough Council, said: "By taking just a few small precautions, we can make the roads safer for everybody who uses them."

"Often we may not realise that small things we do or forget to do can have a great impact on others."

"We are hoping that this campaign encourages drivers and cyclists to travel as safely as they can."

RETURNING TO LEARNING

THERE'S always a second chance in education.

If your schooling days are ones you rather forget, then now's the time to make it right. Even the smallest things like working out the discount in sales are much easier if you're got the right qualifications.

Adult learning may be something you've never considered but it can give you new found confidence and will really boost your skills. Courses are easy to fit around your day-to-day lifestyle and its also a great way to meet new people. Learn Direct has helped more than 2.8 million people gain new skills and nationally recognised qualifications. It's easy to sign up to an online maths or English course and other courses start at prices as low as £21.

It's worth checking through to see if you're eligible for funding as these courses may then be available at a cheaper price. Local colleges also offer a range of course to help you out. People of all ages take these courses so don't feel as though you're going to be stepping into a school full of young people. If you regret not going to university then it's never too late to get a degree. The Open University has developed programmes which can lead to a range of different qualifications and they're flexible to suit you. If you're looking to get back into work, you may be able to take part in the New Deal or other programmes for unemployed people. If you want an informal and confidential chat about improving your skills, call the Government funded Get On Helpline 0800 660 800.

ALL ABOUT NURSERY

A nursery school is a school for children between the ages of one and five years, staffed by suitably qualified and other professionals who encourage and supervise educational play rather than simply providing childcare. It is a pre-school education institution, part of early childhood education.

Nursery in England is also called FS1 which is the first year of foundation before they go into primary or infants.

The curriculum goals of a nursery school are more specific than for childcare, but less strenuous than for primary school. In some areas, the provision of nursery school services is on a user pays or limited basis while other governments fund nursery school services.

In the UK, pre-school education in nursery classes or schools is fully funded by local government for children aged over three. Pre-school education can be provided by childcare centres, playgroups, nursery schools and nursery classes within primary schools. Private voluntary or independent (PVI sector) nursery education is also available throughout the UK and varies between structured pre-school education and a service offering child-minding facilities. Private sector nursery education curricula consist of proprietary guidelines or international guidelines.

THINKING OF RETRAINING?

As we begin to emerge from the recession, there are still many people who are left unemployed. Thousands of people are still unable to find work in the field where they had plied their trade for the most of their professional careers.

However, one in five adults intends to gain further qualifications with colleges reporting increased enrolment, according to a study by YouGov.

The survey of more than 2,000 adults last year found that in excess of 8.4 million people have switched careers in the previous three years and a further 3.2 million intended to do so in the year after.

Money was a deciding factor in 2/5 of respondents. Even if you are trying to get back into the same field of work as you were in before, it is still a good idea to gain more skills.

Training courses are run at colleges; universities private courses providers, advice centres and adult education centres.

If you are not working you may be entitled to a financial help with your fees and if you cannot commit to a timetables course or would rather work at your own pace, you can enrol in a distance learning course.

BE INSPIRED... LEARN, TRAIN & GET SMART

Learning for fun

How many times have you said: 'Next time I go on holiday I'd love to be able to speak the language – you know, just enough to get by.' Or: 'If only I'd concentrated a bit more in maths lessons (and a bit less on what was going on outside the window) I might be able to make sense of my tax return.'

Well, you know what? It's never too late. And now there are more opportunities to broaden your knowledge, learn a new skill and just plain have a good time doing something for yourself than ever before. It could even help you get a better job. Life in the 21st century is lived at a hectic pace. Our free time is scarce and, with each passing year, it's becoming more and more precious. The thought of actually making a regular commitment to a class – even if it's something we'd really like to do – can be daunting.

But the benefits are worth considering; here are just a few reasons to take the plunge: First and foremost, there's no point doing it if you're not going to get something out of it. And it must be your choice and your decision. No-one should force you into it. You are going to need commitment and drive to complete your course, and if you are not interested in the subject matter, forget it; it's a non-starter. You will get the most satisfaction out of a course you enroll in if there's something in it for you. Like asking the way to the beach next time you're on holiday in Spain – and understanding the response?

Don't be put off if you're feeling a little rusty or out of touch. Enrolling in a night course is one of the most effective ways to shake off the dust of day-today pressures that have a habit of settling on your thought processes and creativity. By actively engaging in a stimulating challenge of your own choosing, you may discover fresh mental and physical resources you never knew you had.

And you won't be alone!

Many people who take an evening class are returning to complete a formal education that circumstances would not allow them to finish when they were youngsters. These days, it's hard enough to find a job if you're a graduate with a 1st class honours degree but for someone who, for whatever reason, was failed by the education system first time around, it can be a nightmare. Adults, who sign up for literacy and numeracy classes or take a GCSE/A-Level course, give themselves a fresh footing in a society where information and the ability to communicate are all. Learning a new skill often brings with it new confidence and a self-reliance that comes with overcoming a challenge. But the subject matter doesn't have to be of everyday practical use such as a computer course. Taking up ballroom dancing, Tai Chi, floristry or golf can provide as a great a sense of achievement as mastering Ancient Greek as long as you are hungry to learn and if a completely foreign skill can be mastered then you know that you are well-prepared for any old challenge life may throw

COULD YOU GIVE A CHILD A CHANCE?

Integrated Services Programme (ISP) is an independent, not-for-profit childcare organisation providing foster care to children with a wide range of emotional and behavioural needs. We have Centres in Kent, London, Bucks, Milton Keynes and Sussex. Ofsted assessed all ISP Centres as "Outstanding".

ISP looks after children from many different ethnic and cultural backgrounds including white UK, African, African-Caribbean, Asian and dual heritage. We are keen to recruit carers from similar cultural backgrounds. In addition, we are currently experiencing a high demand to look after: children with various disabilities, children who are involved in the criminal justice system and 'parent & child' placed together.

IF YOU HAVE:

- life experience
- the ability to work with children or young people and parents
- the ability to rise to the challenge of fostering
- patience, determination and a sense of humour
- no children under the age of 2
- a spare bedroom
- a career change in mind

ISP WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM YOU

We offer full training, 24 hour support and highly competitive allowances with generous tax concessions plus added benefits e.g. private medical treatment and respite.

We have put together a special three page feature with many professional businesses that can help people when they get to a certain age. As we get older, there are lots of things that become harder and it is always nice to know help is at hand. Mobility is very important in terms of older people being able to remain independent. When your mobility is restricted it can affect a person's social life and routine. There are many products available such as scooters, wheelchairs, recliner chairs, adjustable beds and power chairs that make people living with a disability have an easier way of life. We feature a few local mobility businesses that are keen to help you with your needs, so give them a call or check their website for products and information. Whether it is yourself or a parent or relative who is finding old age difficult, it is always hard to come to terms with, especially if being active was a big part of your or their lifestyle.

Your hearing may change as you age and your sight may become less sharp. Our senses are vital for balance and being able to interact with the world around us. With the loss of these senses we are more likely to have an accident, and because it is very important to make sure that our sight and hearing are well looked after we have featured an optician with many years of experience. Brown and Wenham, and a Hearing Aid professional who can visit you at home or you can pop into Brown And White Opticians on a Wednesday in Luton or Houghton Regis for a hearing test, some good advice and a choice of aids that will suit your needs as well as your budget.

We have featured some fantastic care and nursing homes. Take a look at the websites to find out what facilities they have and what they can offer you or your loved one. Both Collinson House a professional care home and Woodside Nursing Home, are situated in two acres of private land. We also feature a care home with a unique facility for the public to hire. Lukes Place has a fantastic Hydrotherapy Pool that is great for Arthritis, Hip/Knee pains, back pains and so much more.

There are many options available for caring for the elderly including Home Carers such as Bluebird Care. Their highly experienced staff can help and support their customers, whether it be shopping, getting up in the morning, going to bed or other activities that are being made difficult. They can also put together a tailor made plan to suit the client, in a way that listens to and respects their wishes.

I hope that this feature will make you realise that it may be difficult when you get to a certain age but there are many businesses that are here to help.

Tomb Raider returns with an action-packed masterpiece

GAME REVIEWS

Tomb Raider & Gears of War
Out Now

THIS week we have Gavin Miller and Colin Ward taking a look at the latest releases in the world of computer games.

TOMB RAIDER (360/PS3/PC) - Out Now

It had the hype, but this reinvention of Lara Croft, pictured, has definitely been worth the wait.

With sensational gameplay, fantastic set-pieces and gorgeous graphics, you'll revel in evolving a frightened shipwrecked young woman into an action-heroine for the next generation.

You'll search every nook-and-cranny of this beautifully rendered world as you build skills and upgrade weapons in the ultimate battle for survival, which – bar a couple of minor quirks and an only passable multiplayer mode – is nigh-on faultless.

Even previous Tomb Raider-haters have expressed their surprise at the ingenuity oozing throughout this masterpiece – and put this instantly in the same league as Nathan Drake's Uncharted.

Rating: 5/5 Review: Colin Ward

GEARS OF WAR: JUDGMENT (360) - Out Now

Those of you worried that Damon Baird and Augustus Cole couldn't carry the weight of this franchise on their shoulders should fear no more.

Marcus and Dom have moved aside as Bulletstorm developer People Can Fly take the reigns and provide us with the boldest Gears' outing yet, in a prequel that chronicles their fledgling Kilo Squad years, with some clever storytelling techniques.

Throw in a superb 'Declassify' system, which adds fantastic new depth to the tried-and-tested third-person cover-shooting mechanics – coupled with great new multi-player modes – to really give legs to a franchise which you thought was exhausted with Gears 3.

Despite a generally formulaic villain in the form of General Karn, there's a fresh and resurgent feel to tearing locusts in half.

Rating: 5/5 Review: Gavin Miller

Audition for a starring role in West Side Story

AUDITIONS

Grove Theatre
Sunday, April 28, 10am

THE classic musical West Side Story comes to life on stage when the Grove Theatre Summer Musical Project presents its production this August.

Grove Education Department is looking for young people aged 10-21 who would like to audition for this summer's show and join the Sharks or the Jets for an experience they won't forget.

Grove Theatre's Summer Musical Project is an excellent chance for young people from the local community to make new friends and have a great time whilst learning from some of the best professional theatre practitioners in the industry.

It's a chance to learn how a production is put together from first rehearsal to final performances and everything in between.

The project will run between Saturday August 3 and Saturday August 17 with performances of West Side Story to the public on August 15 and August 16 at 7.30pm, and Saturday, August 17 at 2.30pm and 7.30pm.

Set in the mid-1950s Upper West Side of New York, it is a poignant retelling of Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet.

The musical centres around two teenage street gangs, the Polish-American Jets and the Puerto Rican Sharks, who are struggling for control of the neighbourhood.

Amidst this rivalry Tony, a Jet, and Maria, the sister of the leader of the Sharks, fall in love, testing the bonds of friendship, family and love.

Auditions will be take place on Sunday April 28 from 10am at the Grove.

To register for the audition or apply for a place backstage or as a musician, please visit www.grovetheatre.co.uk/take-part/grove-summer-musical-project to download an application pack.

Entertainment on offer for all at the Grove this summer

NEW SEASON

Grove Theatre
Various Events

AHEAD of the weather comes the Grove Theatre's twentieth season, packed with a strong mix of live entertainment for all ages.

With the new season, the Grove aims to continue its commitment to bring a broad range of professional productions to Bedfordshire.

The summer season kicks off with a line up of films through April including Oz the Great and Powerful, along with Quartet and Oscar-winning blockbusters like Lincoln and Argo.

All films at the Grove are screened in full high definition on the theatre's digital cinema screen, one of the largest in the country.

More films will be announced as the summer months go by.

Drama also makes a return to the Grove with John Godber's modern classic Teechers next month, Ira Levin's Tony Award nominated Deathtrap in June and John Ginnman's thought-provoking Dracula later in the year.

The likes of Upbeat Beatles, ELO Experience and The Virtuosi GUS Band, along with many more, ensure that there will be a wide range of live music in Dunstable over the summer. High profile comedians like Al Murray and Stewart Lee will keep the laughs flowing.

Rotary charity concert

MUSIC

Lea Manor High School Theatre
Saturday, April 27, 7pm

LUTON North Rotary Club will be staging a charity youth concert called 'Luton Youth Makes Music' on the last Saturday of the month at Lea Manor High School.

Music will come from the 60-strong Luton Youth Jazz Orchestra (LYJO), Bushmead Primary School Choir and Luton COGIC Church Gospel Choir.

Paul Denton, a rotarian and the concert committee chairman, said: "An exciting musical evening with some very talented young people is promised, and tickets are already selling well."

Tickets for the concert are priced £8 and can be obtained from Paul on 01582 507285 or by email: tickets@lutonnorthrotary.org

The Rotary Club's next concert will be on Saturday September 28 at the Grove Theatre Dunstable, featuring the internationally renowned Treorchy Male Choir from Wales.

Tickets are on sale at the Grove Theatre on 01582 602080.

The rotary club is part of District 1260 which has 48 clubs covering the area from Ware in the East to Chesham and Amersham in the West, Buckingham and Amptill in the North down to the M25.

It is fairly strongly represented at district level, with District 1260 one of 29 Districts in RIBI (Rotary in GB & Ireland) and one of over 500 Districts worldwide.

The club is also formally linked with another Rotary Club - Wolfsburg in northern Germany, a town which also has formal links with Luton via the motor trade. It is the headquarters for automotive giant Volkswagen.

In addition to this it has informal links with RC Bhavnagar in Gujarat, of which both Bob Shah and Leslie Robertson are honorary members as a result of work the rotary club has done there in recent years.

At the moment the club is working with other branches in St Vincent and Bequia in the West Indies, following its recent wheelchair project.

New work on show at the airport gallery

LANCE Fennell is the latest artist to exhibit his work following a competition which offered talented local artists from Bedfordshire, Hertfordshire and Buckinghamshire the opportunity to display in London Luton Airport's Gateway Gallery.

A local artist based in Milton Keynes, Lance's exhibition focuses on images from his everyday life, including evocative themes of travel and familiarity.

He said: "My work largely revolves around buying frames and other supports at car boot sales and painting these with images from my everyday life."

"Like many people, my experience of landscape is dominated by the car and the road, mostly viewed through a windscreen."

"Familiarity with the subject matter is important to me and I often paint places I see regularly between home and my studio."

Lance's work can be viewed at the airport's Gateway Gallery in the main terminal building adjacent to the Onward Travel Centre.

TOP SAVE: Dean Brill needed to be at full stretch to keep out this Grimsby effort in Friday's 1-1 draw

High flyers held by

BLUE SQUARE BET PREMIER
LUTON TOWN 1
GRIMSBY TOWN 1

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

AS A MARKER for the Hatters' progression, their 1-1 draw with fifth-placed Grimsby Town was as good as any.

Having already lost to the Mariners twice this season in the league and FA Trophy, Luton's performance on Friday night exhibited a fight and doggedness that fans will wish they had seen more of during this frustrating campaign.

Town held their own against a purposeful Grimsby outfit, who are already guaranteed a play-off spot, and they also gained the satisfaction of, temporarily at least, climbing back into the top eight.

Alex Lawless bagged an equaliser at Kenilworth Road, and hopes to sign a new deal at the club shortly.

"I want to stay at Luton," the midfielder said this week. "We haven't got down to any nitty gritty but the gaffer's said he wants to keep me and I've never said I want to leave, so we'll see what proceedings hold."

Despite relegation-threatened Lincoln City providing meek opposition in Tuesday night's resounding 3-0 win, the Hatters looked to have seized confidence from that handsome victory.

For much of the opening exchanges, Luton belied their tenth-place league standing and the 17-point gap between the teams to threaten the Lincolnshire side.

Fifth-minute pinball inside the Grimsby area almost benefited Hatters top scorer Andre Gray but his shot was superbly blocked on the line with Jon Shaw unable to knock in the loose ball.

Luton's leading light has more often than not been Gray this campaign and his movement and energy was causing the Grimsby backline difficulties.

Soon after the visitors had just about prevented his 17th goal of the season, he was afforded time in the box by the all-at-sea Mariners but could only blaze over, much to home disgruntlement.

Grimsby's recent form has been as choppy as the North Sea in winter. But they have managed to steady the ship to register a six-game unbeaten run after four defeats on the bounce in mid-March seemingly denied their automatic promotion aspirations.

Nevertheless, Frankie Artus' 25th minute wayward pass that failed to find a team-mate and flew straight out of play summed up his side's first-half activity.

However, cue the mysterious 30th minute fireworks from behind the executive boxes and the ignition of a Grimsby spark.

FRATER SEALS DERBY FOR 'INVINCIBLES'

LOCAL FOOTBALL

BY JONATHAN PAXTON
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

HAVING sewn up the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division title in midweek, Dunstable Town took the spoils in the derby with AFC Dunstable at Creasey Park, winning 1-0.

In front of a season's best crowd for the league of 392, Nathan Frater scored the only goal after 14 minutes, the striker on hand to knock the ball home from a cross which AFC failed to clear.

There could have been more goals for Town, who were nominally the home side, with a Tony Burnett effort ricocheting off the crossbar and top scorer Lee Roache somehow firing over in front of a virtual open goal in the second half.

AFC weren't outplayed by their table-topping rivals, and created a number of chances in the second half with Richard Harker having an effort scrambled off the line.

Having played eight games in 14 days, Town stay unbeaten in the league with two games remaining to claim the 'invincible' tag if they can avoid defeat.

AFC remain in tenth place and manager Alex Butler said: "Dunstable Town are by far the best side in this division and we feel unlucky not to have got something from the game. Good luck to them as they progress up the leagues."

Barton Rovers came from two goals down to grab a point at Ashford Town (Middlesex) in a mid-table clash in the Evo Stik South Midlands Division One.

Barton trailed 2-0 at half-time but Ashford were down to ten men when Antonio Simeone was sent off just before the break for a headbutt on Bobby Dance.

Rovers pulled a goal back midway through the second half through a Dance penalty, awarded when a Rhys Hoeness free kick was handled in the area.

Ten minutes later, Jermain Hall reacted quickest to a rebound to equalise and Ashford were soon down to nine men when John Baxter was sent off for a second yellow card.

The home side hung on despite late Barton pressure and the point leaves Rovers in 13th place.

DESERVED EQUALISER: Alex Lawless, who is in contract talks, celebrates pulling the Hatters level

determined Hatters

Similar to most of his team-mates, top scorer Liam Hearn had struggled to make an impact on the game, but Dean Brill had to be at full stretch to tip his curling shot around the post just before the break.

Moments later Brill was relied upon to parry a stinging 20-yard shot from Hearn's equally redundant strike partner, Lenell John-Lewis, as the away side finished the opening period the stronger.

Hatters boss John Still has talked a good game since taking over at Kenilworth Road, but it seemed Grimsby's joint managers Rob Scott and Paul Hurst upped their half-time admonishment as the side re-emerged with a greater impetus at the restart, mainly courtesy of the inspired midfielder Andi Thanoj.

First, he teed up Dayle Southwell who fired over from almost the same spot as Gray in the first half, and shortly after Thanoj hit a rasping drive that cannoned off the underside of Brill's bar and bounced clear, despite vehement protests it had crossed the Hatters line.

The hosts may have survived that contentious effort but their resolve was to remain intact for a mere two minutes longer as Grimsby finally broke the deadlock.

Thanoj's tantalising free-kick outfoxed the home backline and, after floundering to clear the danger, Southwell made amends for his poor miss moments before to ram home the 54th minute opener. Harsh on the resilient home side but inevitable after mounting Mariners' pressure.

A deflated home faithful sunk into their seats fully aware a seventh home defeat could be on the cards.

However, Luton's rugged and determined response shook the visitors and after going close through debutant Scott Griffiths they found a 76th minute equaliser.

Solomon Taiwo crossed neatly to find the unmarked Lawless who lashed home from 12 yards.

With the whiff of a tidy three points in the home side's nostrils, they looked to break down the door again, but Lawless could only fire high from a good chance, while substitute Alex Wall headed wide at the near post late on.

One point gained rather than two lost as Luton attempt to bridge the gap to the top six and a more respectable league finish. Perhaps more questions than answers posed for Still as the season nears its end.

Nutley has fight on his hands for Saints place

BY MARC BAZELEY

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

BEING in the same side as some of the best back row players in the country is exactly what Ben Nutley wants – aside from the fact it means he has to fight even harder to earn a place in the Northampton Saints side.

The Luton-born flanker has managed four starts from his nine first team appearances this season, with his progress being slightly interrupted at the start of this year after he suffered an ankle injury.

With England international Tom Wood back at the club and Calum Clark returning from injury, the 21-year-old's chances of starting in the final three Aviva Premiership games look limited. However, it serves as motivation for Nutley.

"Other than that, I wouldn't want to be in any other environment," said Nutley. "The quality we have here can only help me improve."

"If I'm getting in the team ahead of them then maybe England are looking at me, so that's what you've got to think about."

"They're great players and it's good to learn from them every day, on and off the pitch."

"They're really helpful and it's not like they shun you because you're in the same position."

"If you prove your point and show you're a good enough player they will help you out."

Nutley has won plenty of admirers both in and outside the club ever since breaking into the first team in 2010, not least of all Wood after being impressed with his efforts on the training ground every day.

"He's a great lad, he works very hard and he's really open-minded," said Wood. "He takes any advice on board, he listens, but he also contributes."

"We're not mothering anybody; he's a valued member of the squad, he's just one of the other players among us and he competes hard on a daily basis."

Nutley is at least set to be on the replacements bench for Saints' trip to London Welsh today, and is aiming to play some part as the side bid to secure a place in the Premiership semi-finals in the remaining regular season games.

He is also looking at a long-term aim of establishing himself in the side, but knows he must keep impressing Northampton director of rugby Jim Mallinder and forwards coach Dorian West if he is to do that.

"I hope I keep putting that question in the coaches' mind that I'm almost there and I keep knocking on the door," said Nutley.

"But you look at the quality we have got in the back five and there are international all over the park."

"I'm only a young guy and I've got a long career ahead of me, and hopefully I can continue how I'm going."

No mercy shown to Luton by ruthless Bury

RUGBY UNION

BY DAN PALMER

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON had an afternoon to forget yesterday as they were thrashed 59-0 by dominant league leaders Bury St Edmunds in the London 1 North.

The Suffolk side have won every league game they have played this season and managed to put 108 points on the board against Beaconsfield last weekend, so Luton made the journey east more in hope than expectation.

They will still be disappointed with the margin of the defeat though as in the corresponding fixture between the sides in December, Luton managed to keep the score respectable as they claimed a bonus point in a close 21-14 reverse.

This time though Bury clearly showed that they are the best team in the division with some excellent rugby as they outclassed their opponents.

Luton kept trying until the end but it was complete domination for the hosts who have cruised their way through the campaign.

Next week sees Luton host Colchester in the final game of the season – a match which will be a straight shoot-out for fourth place in the division.

In the Midlands 2 East Dunstablians travelled to Northampton BBOB but were on the wrong end of a 15-11 defeat.

Victor Hardwick scored a try for Dunstablians which went unconverted, and the rest of the scoring came through Henry Hardwick's drop goal and a penalty from the boot of Ben Petrisor.

Stockwood Park also went down in the Midlands Three East as the visiting Rushden & Higham snuck away with a narrow 14-13 victory.

In a nip and tuck match in dreadful conditions, Jason Carr kicked two penalties for Stockwood as the match remained poised at 6-6 in the second half.

It was Rushden who took the initiative though, scoring a penalty and then an unconverted try, which meant that James Hankey's late try for Stockwood, converted by Carr, was for nothing.

Still tells Luton fans: Let me entertain you

FOOTBALL

BY LUKE PETERSON
sport@lntmedia.co.uk

JOHN Still is adamant that Hatters fans will soon be watching an entertaining brand of attacking football.

Luton held promotion-pushing Grimsby Town to a 1-1 draw at Kenilworth Road on Friday night and, with over 20 attempts at goal, Still's growing side could and should have had more.

"I thought we played some great football at a great tempo and showed a glimpse of what I think we can do," he said.

"I think that, gradually, people are understanding what we require. I think that it's a glimmer of what we can achieve but that's still a way to come.

"Against Lincoln [on Tuesday] we showed a glimpse and today we've shown a glimpse."

The players received warm applause after Friday's display for a dominant performance against a side who, earlier in the season, humiliated the Hatters 4-1 and 3-0.

And Still says the home fans will have lots more to be pleased about in the not-too-distant future.

"The team will have a way of playing that, I think, will be great to watch because we want to cross the ball, we want to move the ball quickly," he said.

Still is positive about the progress the side has made, while, at the same time, acknowledging that much work is yet to be done.

"Since I've been here, I've been reasonably pleased," he said. "What I'm after will be so different from what they're used to, in the training, the fitness aspect, the conditioning aspect and the playing aspect."

"Once we get the right levels of fitness, gradually we can wear teams down and I think that's what we've done a bit today."

"Our teamwork was good today but it can be better and I think that's a key to lots of it."

"It's just takes time. Gradually we'll have everybody working the same way."

Meanwhile, Still says he knows which players he wants to sign, with proceedings beginning over the next couple of weeks.

"I'm clear on where I want to go," he said. "I know who I want and, if I don't get that, we know where we'll go after that."

"No-one's coming in [before the end of the season] but we've identified some people that we want and we'll be making in-roads in that area in the next week or two."

"I know the type of players I want so the people that I want have to fall into that category."

"If I can't get that, I'll wait until the one in that category comes along."

Still is adamant he will not be pushed into panic-buying, even at the expense of the squad's depth for next season.

"I'm not going to sign someone just for the space," he said.

"I'll sign who I want and if I've got to wait for others, I'll wait for another year if they're under contract."

"Will we get everyone we want? No, I doubt it."

THE rapidinchloss CLINIC

One of our success stories...

Who: Leslie Carey, 39

Where: The Rapid Inch Loss Clinic Nuneaton

When: 6 Weeks, June 2011

What Happened: Leslie had Ultrasonic Liposuction on her stomach and inner thigh but only lost $\frac{3}{4}$ inch after 1st visit. She then lost $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches after her 2nd visit, before losing 16 inches in total over the course of her therapy.

How: We focussed Ultrasonic Liposuction on Leslie's inner thigh and stomach once a week (1 session on each area) for 6 weeks. After her 1st session Leslie ate take away food on 4 of the evenings, as well as drinking several pints of beer most nights. This resulted in slow progress. However, after only losing $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in week 1, Leslie decided to drink a little more moderately, ate more balanced meals and as a result she then lost $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches between her 2nd & 3rd treatments. Leslie then resolved to adjust her lifestyle, she started eating & drinking in moderation, while making an effort to be more active generally. Leslie went on to lose 16 inches in total over her course which took in 12 sessions each on her stomach & inner thighs.

Why was Ultrasonic Liposuction Needed: Leslie has a demanding job as a director of an engineering firm, this lead to Leslie having a poor diet of take away food & beer, with little activity in her daily life due to a lack of time. Leslie arrived for her 1st session as a size 16, standing at 5' 6" tall

Where are they now: After achieving her target size and shape Leslie had lost 16 inches from her stomach and inner thigh. After completing her course and armed with her improved lifestyle and body shape Leslie felt inspired to take up Exercise! She began walking 3 evenings a week and therefore needed no more sessions to maintain her new size and shape!
